Council rocked by resignations

TOWN CLERK AND TWO COUNCILLORS QUIT IN TRIPLE BLOW

SEATON has been rocked by the resignation of two town councillors and the departure of the recently appointed town clerk.

The departure of town clerk, Tony Le Riche,

by Laura Goldsbury-Noy

alongside town councillors John Seward and Jim Pigott came as a shock to the town, as the council received a triple blow at a council meeting last Monday.

Whilst Councillor Seward has stood down due to ill health, Mr Pigott refused to go into detail regarding his resignation.

He briefly commented: "I can't go into much detail at this stage."

"All I can say is that I was not happy with the way the town council was run. There was weak leadership from the chairman and the council was dominated by certain councillors.

"I am sad to leave the town council but I was not prepared to put my name to a few of the things that are happening."

Alongside the departure of the two town councillors, Seaton's town clerk and responsible financial officer, Tony Le Riche, has also stood down from his role after 18 months of service to the council.

Despite enjoying his role, Mr Le Riche said the time had come for him to move on to other things and has officially ended his role as town clerk today (February 5th.)

During his time on the town council, he has set out to bring improvements to the town, such as appointing a designer for the seafront enhancement project, setting out to get a dog warden for Seaton, naming the public realm and enhancing Jubilee Gardens.

More recently, he has also been involved with providing new play equipment for Elizabeth Road play park, which is set to be installed in the next few weeks.

Mr Le Riche hopes to now complete a number of training courses for future employment as well as further his interest in travelling, with a trip planned for Iceland in two weeks time.

He commented: "When I came for the interview, part of my role was to take care of admin processes, leaving councillors to have time to do work for the community and they have made a great start on a huge number of projects.

"I have had a strong working relationship with the town mayor, Peter Burrows, and hope that he will be there to continue leading the council during these exciting times for Seaton."

"It is now time for me to move on to other things and make way for a new town clerk who can continue to help the council deliver more exciting projects."

Seaton Town Mayor, Councillor Burrows, did not wish to comment on the allegation of weak leadership but was saddened by the past week's events.

Commenting on the three departures, Councillor Burrows said: "We wish the clerk well in his new ventures, and thank him for his contribution to the town."

"I have known John Seward for many years and the town council will miss his valued contribution."

"John has served on many committees, most recently chairing the altotments and the tourist information committees."

"John was always able to give an impartial view on things and used his knowledge of his time spent in Seaton to good advantage."

"I wish John the best and hope he will support us in an advisory role when his health improves."

"Jim Pigott has also served Seaton for several years on the town council."

"He was the chairman of the Planning Committee for a second year and was helping to produce our reply to EDDC on the local plan."

"As I was the one who persuaded Jim to stand, I would like to hope he enjoys his retirement."

"The work of a town councillor is voluntary and I would like to thank all past, present and future councillors who work for the benefit of the town."

Call over 'suicidal' man

POLICE officers and the Coastguard were called to locate a man said to be suicidal in the vicinity of Beer Head.

Police were first at the scene and requested help from Beer Coastguard at 6:40pm on Thursday, January 24th.

A Coastguard spokesperson said: "Beer Coastguard rescue officers were despatched to the location and shortly after their arrival the police called to confirm that the man... had been removed from danger to a place of safety."

Tumble dryer fire

FIREFIGHTERS from Colyton and Axminster were called to a tumble dryer fire in Seaton on Friday, February 1st.

The alarm was raised just before 4pm and appliances from Colyton and Axminster were despatched to the property in Fore Street, Seaton.

A spokesperson for the fire and rescue service said: "The Colyton crew were first in attendance and confirmed that the small fire in the tumble dryer was out on their arrival and the Axminster appliance was not required."

■ The Mayor of Seaton, Councillor Peter Burrows, wishes departing town clerk Tony Le Riche well after just 18 months in the role. The news of Mr Le Riche's departure broke the same day Councillors John Seward and Jim Pigott both resigned Quotes of the week...

“ IN this day and age, when we are all struggling and every day when you switch on the television you hear about the recession and a lack of money, it's distressing really. It's quite a waste of money'

COLYTON resident Mrs Johnson who wrote to the Parish Council expressing concern about Queen Street being dug up twice within seven days by Devon County Council and then Western Power Distribution.

“ DEVON and Cornwall Police will not tolerate any form of anti-social behaviour and persons involved will find themselves being either arrested, prosecuted, fined and/or imprisoned. We want all persons to enjoy themselves on a night out in Axminster and to think about their behaviour and not to spoil it for themselves or others."

ACTING Police Sargeant Steve Paynter on the determination of Axminster Police to stamp out unruly and drunken behaviour at local pubs.

“ IT'S time the countryside got a fairer deal. Rural local authorities have always had to deal with under-funding compared with their city neighbours. Urban councils already receive twice as much as rural councils like East Devon and Mid Devon district councils in my constituency. This trend must be reversed'

MP Neil Parish on why he decided to call for a backbenchers' debate on the current government settlement for rural communities.

This week's local news in numbers

45 THE number of students at Axe Valley Community College who are applying for a university place this year, a record figure.

£4,500 THE value of oil stolen from private and commercial properties in the Axminster area since January 11th.

103 THE number of mums who opted to give-birth at Honiton Hospital over the last five years, a reduction from 171. During the same period the number at the RD & E in Exeter has gone up from 2,899 to 3,697.

Tigers looking for three points

AXMINSTER Town will head into Saturday's South-West Peninsula League visit by Totnes & Dartington with three points squarely in their sights if they are to maintain their grip on a top finish.

With no wins from their last five outings the Tigers will look to bounce back to the form that saw them head the table for several weeks in the early part of the season.

Saturday's 2-2 draw with Stoke Gabriel saw the team show glimpses of this form and the point was richly deserved.

Down in the Devon & Exeter League Seaton Town are also without a win in six following their surprise 3-1 home reverse at the hands of Clyst Valley.

Next up for the Greens is Saturday's visit by fourth placed Newtown who looked on course to bring an end to leaders Feniton's unbeaten record before shipping two late goals in a 3-2 defeat last Saturday.

Meanwhile, Beer Albion will look to bounce back from a 5-1 thumping at fifth-placed Heavitree Social United as they visit title-contenders Hatherleigh Town.

SIDMOUTH Town went close to ending runaway South-West Peninsula League division one (East) leaders Exmouth Town's 12-game winning run as they went down 2-1 at Manstone Road. Sidmouth trailed 2-0 late-on but a Sam Baker goal gave their visitors something to think about in the dying minutes.

The Vikings, still cast adrift by seven points at the foot of the table welcome mid-table Apple-dore at the weekend.

At last a plan for Webster's garage

PLANS to demolish the derelict Webster's garage and make way for a 60-space car park have been revealed.

The long-term aim is still to develop the site, but permission to run a public car park for up to five years is being sought.

Hallmark Estates, the Plymouth-based owner of the derelict building, which has been empty for about 30 years, describes it as the town's "most dominant, prominent and harmful wart".

A planning application was submitted to East Devon District Council (EDDC) on Thursday of last week.

After demolition, the plan is to provide parking space for 60 cars, five motorcycles and five bicycles.

Commenting on the proposal, Axminster mayor Andrew Moulding said he supported the proposal in principle and would welcome more car parking capacity. He stressed, however, that a car park is a stop-gap measure until a long-term solution for the site is found.

Efforts to spruce up the frontage with a mural will not have been in vain as the application features provision of public art.

Pub exclusion zone

AXMINSTER police have created an exclusion zone to help prevent unruly drinkers causing alcohol-related disorder.

The town was marred by a number of violent incidents in the run-up to Christmas and police have already increased patrols.

Wider use of Section 27 legislation has also been introduced, which means that police can ban people from the exclusion zone for up to 48 hours.

Acting sergeant Payneter stressed that police will come down hard on any troublemakers, and said: "Devon and Cornwall Police will not tolerate any form of anti-social behaviour and persons involved will find themselves being either arrested, prosecuted, fined and/or imprisoned."

From the editor's chair Removing the 'wart'

IT WAS one of the best kept secrets in Axminster for many a year – but there were few who were not delighted to hear it.

I refer, of course, to the planning application seeking permission to demolish Webster's Garage and replace it, temporarily, with a car park.

There was only one headline we could use on the front page of our Axminster edition: "AT LAST!"

The debacle of Webster's Garage has, unbelievably, dragged on for three decades during which time the eyesore has blighted the town centre, much to the detriment of the business community. For the people of Axminster, it's demolition cannot come quick enough.

It would seem that very few people were aware that a planning application was imminent. Councillor Andrew Moulding, Town Mayor and deputy leader of East Devon District Council, the planning authority, was aware of the development, but it would seem that few others, including most town councillors, were not aware of it.

In various columns I have written down the years I have always maintained that if Webster's Garage had been sited in Sidmouth, home of EDDC, the matter would have been dealt with many moons ago.

This view was always strongly refuted at Knowle but I stick by it. It is inconceivable to think that such a derelict building would have been allowed to remain in such a state in East Devon's most up-market town for so long. However, it is pointless in pursuing this line in view of the planning application which is now being considered and which we can only hope will be dealt with quickly.

It has been stressed that the demolition of the old garage and creation of a fourth town centre car park is only a temporary solution and that the property developers that own the site want to persist with their original plans to create of retail centre for Axminster, with some town centre housing, when the financial climate allows.

The developers are obviously conscious that the continuing decay of the old garage cannot go on for ever and have even gone as far as describing their property as "a wart", which indeed it is.

◆ IN our Seaton edition we report on more upset in the town council chamber. Many will be surprised to read that two councillors have resigned and the town clerk, Tony le Riche, has departed after just 18 months in the job.

Mayor Peter Burrows has issued a statement which throws very little light on the reason for the departures, although "personality clashes" seems to be one of the causes. The people of Seaton can be forgiven for thinking "here we go again".

COLYTON

Queen Street dug up twice in a week

A COLYTON road was dug up twice in a week after a "lack of communication" between the county council and electricity company Western Power Distribution.

Queen Street was resurfaced by Devon County Council over two days in January, much to the delight of local residents who had been campaigning for the work for two years. However, residents were left angered when, just seven days later, the road was dug up again for electricity works.

In a letter read out at a recent Colyton Parish Council meeting, Queen Street resident Mrs Johnson said it was "devastating" to see the good work destroyed having waited so long for resurfacing.

She put the problem down to a lack of communication between departments at Devon County Council.

Speaking to the Pulman's View, Mrs Johnson added: "We were given a lot of notice that they were going to do the resurfacing. They came along one week and it took them two days."

"They did it very well. Then about seven days later Western Power Distribution came along. We had no idea they were going to block the road or start excavating. It seems to be a lack of communication."

"Parish clerk Liz Berry said she was now awaiting a response from Devon County Council to explain the confusion."

However, Mrs Johnson did add that Western Power Distribution had done an "excellent job" in reinstating the new road surface.

SEATON

Two councillors and clerk resign

SEATON has been rocked by the resignation of two town councillors and the departure of the recently appointed town clerk.

The departure of town clerk, Tony Le Riche, alongside town councillors John Seward and Jim Pigott came as a shock to the town, as the council received a triple blow at a council meeting last Monday.

Mr Le Riche said the time had come for him to move on to other things and ended his role as town clerk today (February 5th.).

SIDMOUTH/OTTERY New recycling centre 'real asset'

CONSTRUCTION work will begin this month on a new recycling centre between Sidmouth and Ottery St Mary.

The new site will replace the existing facility, which is now inadequate for modern demands, and will be positioned just to the south of the existing site at Woods Farm, near the Bowd on the C808 Ottery St Mary road.

The new larger centre will give residents a superior service with minimal queuing and congestion, making it easier and more convenient to recycle household items and waste.

The site will be of a split-level design where the public can deposit items for recycling or disposal in various containers placed at a lower level, without the need to climb steps.

The majority of HGV movements will take place separately from the public area, which will further enable the site to remain open to the public when waste containers are being exchanged.

HONITON

Beehive progress

THE Honiton's Beehive Community Centre project took a step forward when East Devon District Council's Cabinet agreed to transfer the freehold of the Dowell Street car park to Honiton Town Council at no cost.

It is hoped that contracts can be signed in the next two weeks so that work can start in early March.

As reported last week, a report concluded that there are a number of advantages with transferring the freehold as opposed to a long lease.

Among other factors, it would be beneficial to the town council to have full control over the site rather than being a tenant and having to ask the landlord for various permissions.

However, if the site should be turned over to a different use at any time in the future, EDDC reserves the right to "claw back" any increased value, meaning the district wouldn't miss out from any other higher-value uses of the land.

School says farewell to Paul

LOOKING BACK | At a special farewell dinner, all three of the head teachers Paul Dike served with arrived at The Blue Ball to give him a send off. Pictured are former Seaton Primary School headteachers Peter Dart and John Morrish, current executive head teacher, Alan Simpson and Paul Dike at the party

A LONG serving and much-loved teacher has stepped down from his post after more than 35 years of service to Seaton Primary School.

Fifty-eight-year-old Paul Dike retired from his 35-year teaching post at the end of December after spending his entire teaching career at the school.

After joining the school in September 1977, underhead teacher John Morrish, Mr Dike has dedicated his time to the children of Seaton, serving under three different head teachers.

He began his career at the old school site linked to St Clare's until 1980, when the school moved to its current location on Valley View.

Mr Dike explained: "I had always enjoyed working with children. In my hometown of Poole, I was involved with the local scout group and youth club, as well as spending one afternoon a week helping in the children's ward at Poole Hospital.

"I studied to be a teacher in Bristol and from there I took up my first teaching post at Seaton Primary School and stayed there.

"I have been lucky enough to teach under three brilliant head teachers - John Morrish, Peter Dart and Alan Simpson, which in a way has been a privilege in itself.

"I just loved everything about Seaton Primary School and have always been very fond of my students, and one of my major achievements has been the huge rapport I have built up not only with past and present students, but also with their families.

"One thing I have always said is that the children should come to me if they were worried about learning or anything at school. I just wanted the best for all the children I have taught."

Mr Dike described one of the highlights of his career to be the trips to Pixie's Holt in Dartmoor, where throughout the entirety of his career, he has taken groups of children twice a year on a residential trip.

Many still remember these trips fondly, particularly Mr Dike's vivid ghost stories, which have been passed down through generations of families that have attended the school.

He explained: "Pixie's Holt is of course a very fond memory of my time at Seaton Primary and many have said that my ghost stories are

by Laura Goldsbury Noy

laura@pemediia.co.uk historic in themselves.

"Those trips really were the highlight for me and two teachers will continue them now I have gone.

"Pixies Holt gave me that bonus of being able to take the children out of the classroom and to Dartmoor where it's such a joy to see the children in a different light."

Mr Dike also created the famous 'sponsored scramble' - a huge obstacle course taking over the school playing field, where all the children are asked to get outdoors and be sponsored for their participation to raise funds for the school PTA.

It was recently announced by Seaton's Town Crier that the event has raised £25,000 for the PTA since it began and Mr Dike said it was something he was "very proud of."

Whilst describing himself as "part of the furniture" at Seaton Primary, Mr Dike has also been recognised by the wider community for his dedication to young people in the town.

In 2004, Seaton Town Council recognised him for his work with the school and local youth groups by naming him 'Citizen of the Year'.

After being chairman of the local scout group for ten years, running various football competitions, sporting and outdoor events and still dedicating his time to his teaching career, Mr Dike described the award as a "real delight" where he felt as though he had been recognised as "a true and loyal citizen in Seaton."

During his last day at the school on December 21st, Mr Dike was surprised with a special farewell dinner at The Blue Ball in Sidford, where all present staff gave him a proper send off and presented him with a golf club.

An even greater surprise came when a huge crowd of previous colleagues, friends and family arrived, with one guest even travelling from Cardiff to celebrate his time at the school.

Mr Dike was also presented with a bouquet at a special school assembly, where a handful of past students attended to give speeches on their fond memories of him in the classroom.

To top it off, Mr Dike then received a huge bundle of retirement cards as honour and tribute featuring 57 farewell messages.

Although he described it as one of the hardest decisions to leave the school, Mr Dike is happy to now be focusing on his retirement where he looks forward to spending time with his wife Frances.

A keen golf player, he hopes to invest more time in playing to get his handicap down and improve on his favourite sport.

He also loves to cycle and walk, so hopes to go on active holidays within the UK and abroad.

After recently returning from Austria, where he enjoyed winter cross-country skiing, Mr Dike is keen to continue his love for the outdoors.

Commenting on his retirement he added: "I have loved every minute teaching at Seaton Primary and I will miss it very much, but the time was right to move on.

"I really have had a fantastic teaching career and I will miss being part of a team - the camaraderie of the staff, the cut and thrust of the whiteboard and just being in front of the children.

"I always tried to make learning enjoyable and fun - I guess I have just never grown up in a way.

"Of course I will stay in contact with the school and follow its progress, and may even return from time to time for a bit of supply teaching as I have no intention of relocating, and love living in this beautiful town.

"A huge thanks to everyone who has enriched my life as a person and as a teacher over the years, it really has been a pleasure."

College to work in partnership with business

AXE Valley Community College reached out to the local business company when staging a breakfast meeting on Wednesday, January 30th.

The meeting saw the formal launch of the Axminster college's Sponsorship & Partnership Opportunities concept.

It has been put in place to signal a new era, replacing the "outdated" concept of the college taking a begging bowl to businesses.

Headteacher Martin Smith told the assembled crowd: "It is an outdated approach to go with a begging bowl."

"For you to be interested in us, there has to be a two-way benefit."

In short, anyone sponsoring the college or one of its events will get something in return.

This could include anything from a company name or logo appearing on tickets for college events, a mention on the college website to a college band performing at an event organised by the sponsor.

The college provides a raft of partnership opportunities, including the sponsoring of large scale capital projects like the proposed artificial sports pitch; specialist equipment; trips and events like the The Minster Challenge.

Sponsorship deals do not have to include money as companies are welcome to offer work placements, mentoring, host visits from student groups, and come to the college and talk to students about relevant issues and topics.

Prior to the breakfast meeting, college spokesperson Wendy Crier said: "The approach we are taking with our sponsorship and partnership is fairly innovative within the state school sector."

"We have a headteacher and leadership team who are committed to offering enhanced learning experiences and therefore we are looking for creative ways to find funding."

"The College Connect Team - consisting of Sara Feldman, Rebecca Levi and me - was set up in September by headteacher Martin Smith, with the brief that a significant focus would be on this area."

"In essence, instead of asking for money as schools have traditionally done, we are looking for ways to work with partners for a mutually beneficial outcome or win win."

Approximately 25 business people attended the meeting.

Anyone interested in finding out more can contact the college.

■ UNIVERSITY-BOUND: (If from the left): Jonathan Sweetland, Ella Marsh and Josie Chipperfield.

Record numbers off to uni

UNIVERSITY applications are peaking at Axe Valley Community College in Axminster.

The proportion of sixth formers applying for a place this year is the highest ever for the college.

There are 53 students in Year 13 and headteacher Martin Smith said: "85 per cent of our Year 13 students have applied for university this year, which is our highest number ever."

"Against a backdrop of negative publicity surrounding tuition fees I think this is remarkable and reflects the growing self confidence and ambition of our sixth form students. Most of our students have already received offers from universities."

This year the college has been particularly active in encouraging students to realise their potential and consider university as the next step after college.

Josie Chipperfield, a Year 13 student is an example of one of the college's students who hopes to be the first generation in her family going to university.

She said: "I will be the first person in my family to go to university and when I achieve my degree, I will be really proud of myself."

Ella Marsh, also a Year 13 student, said: "Having a university offer provides a serious goal to work towards. It makes me feel more in control of my future."

Another student having applied is Jonathan Sweetland, who is hoping to study physics at Durham University.

College spokesperson Wendy Crier said: "Axe Valley Community College has been partnering with The University of Exeter on the college's ASPIRE programme (for gifted and talented students) as well as on the Extended Project Qualification (EPQ), which is in its second year."

"The recent visit to the University of Exeter of the entire year group of 150 students from Year 9 is an example of the work the college is doing to encourage more students to consider university as the next step after leaving secondary education."

MP pressing for better deal for rural areas

LOCAL MP Neil Parish has secured a debate in parliament calling on the government to give rural communities a better financial deal.

Mr Parish says the existing settlement "threatens to entrench the injustice suffered by rural areas by further widening the gap between the funding given to rural and urban councils".

Mr Parish led a group of cross-party MPs in presenting the case for the debate. It will take place Monday, February 11th and is being supported by The Rural Fair Share Campaign.

Mr Parish said: "It's time the countryside got a fairer deal. Rural local authorities have always had to deal with under-funding compared with their city neighbours."

"Urban councils already receive twice as much than rural councils like East Devon and Mid Devon district councils in my constituency. This trend must be reversed."

"I hope that this debate will send a clear signal to the minister of the strength of feeling from all sides of the House that rural services need to be properly funded."

◆ The Rural Fair Share Campaign brings together Members of Parliament and Peers, on a cross-party basis, along with organisations, community groups, and individuals concerned about the welfare of rural communities, in order to work towards fairer funding settlements that better reflect real needs.

New school pitch will be floodlit

AXE Valley Community College headteacher Martin Smith described a sports pitch consultation as "purposeful and constructive".

As previously reported, the Axminster college has advanced plans to lay an artificial pitch on its sports field.

The full-size football pitch would boast what is known as third generation surface and come with floodlights.

Also involved are local football clubs and Leisure East Devon, supported by Devon FA.

To gauge public opinion, the college and its partners invited members of the public to an information evening on Thursday, January 24th.

Mr Smith made a presentation to the 17-strong audience after which residents could ask questions and air their views.

In summary, people recognised and supported the positive impact a pitch would have on students at the college and youth football in the area as a whole.

But a number of concerns were also aired, including the possibility of pitch users parking in residential area.

Among other things, residents also asked the college to: ensure that lighting levels don't affect local residents; ensure that a strong code of conduct will be in place for users.

Strict criteria

A planning application will be submitted by the college in due course, and Mr Smith said after the event: "The college and partners are committing to listening to the views of local residents and will explore ways in which the issues could be addressed.

"While every effort will be made to accommodate residents' views, it was also explained that the business plan for the project had to provide a sustainable future for the pitch and that The Football Foundation - which we hope will provide funding - has strict criteria for how the pitch is designed and supports football development in the area.

"The meeting was purposeful and constructive.

"We were able to take on board local residents' views and we look forward to working with them in the future to ensure that this exciting project has a positive impact on the community."

Child locked in house

AN AXMINSTER mother and her child were reunited after the latter had locked herself in.

Firefighters were called to a property in Will-hayes Park just before 3pm on Thursday, January 31st.

A spokesperson for the fire and rescue service said: "Fire control received a call from a mother reporting that whilst she was in the garden, her 18-month-old child had locked herself inside the house and was unable to unlock the door.

"The Axminster appliance was mobilised to assist. The crews gained entry to the house and the child was reunited with her mother."

MEMBERS of Dalwood Spinners have moved into one of the former police cells in Axminster's Old Courthouse.

They display and sell knitwear in aid of Devon Air Ambulance Trust.

The sale and exhibition can be accessed through the

Anyone interested in joining the spinners - who do weaving, spinning and knitting - can call Jane on 01404 831 207 for more information.

■ AXMINSTER Arts Cafés first exhibition of the year featured peace posters from Devon, Somerset and Cornwall. A total of 22 posters adorned the walls in January, all being winning contributions in regional heats of Lions International Peace Poster Competition.

Axminster Arts chairman Tony Fells thanked those who had travelled and said: "They are fantastic and thought-provoking posters."

Some of the artists are pictured at the arts café on Saturday of last week.

Mum's drive to bring mental illness into open

AN Axminster mother is taking her fight to raise awareness of mental illness in the young to a higher level.

Debbie Humberstone is in the process of setting up a support group for affected youngsters as well as their parents.

In a previous interview with Pulman's View she admitted that she too had been "guilty of some of the prejudices" she feels "so acutely in other people".

She also spoke openly about her experiences from the difficult time when her then 16-year-old daughter, Jess, suffered from mental health problems and was admitted to an in-patient unit.

She did so to raise awareness and hammer home the message that mental illness doesn't discriminate and can hit anyone regardless of age, gender, race and lifestyle.

Jess is now 19 and doing very well, working and studying.

But Debbie has continued her work to raise awareness and support others who are affected by mental health issues.

Along with Jess, she was recently featured in a two-page national newspaper magazine article.

She said: "The lack of community support available when Jess was ill has prompted me to want to set up a support group."

"There is no support for parents or carers

By Anders Larsson
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

and support only becomes available to young people once their mental health problems are already quite bad.

"Child and Adolescent Mental Health Services (CAMHS) are over-stretched and under-resourced - and can therefore only see those most severely affected.

"In terms of East Devon, CAMHS - which cover Exeter, Mid and East Devon - receive between 1,000-1,200 referrals per year.

Pilot project

"However, in East Devon only Exmouth College has a primary health worker. The proposals for this project are supported by local GPs, health visitors, school nurses and CAMHS.

"In the first instance, young people would be referred via these routes."

The long-term aim is to have a group covering the whole of East Devon, but the pilot will operate in the Axminster area.

Debbie added: "I hope to emphasise the importance of talking about mental illness - bringing it out into the open so that people do not feel ashamed of talking about mental health, and reducing the stigma associated with mental illness."

East Devon Volunteer Support Agency

■ DOING FINE: Debbie Humberstone and daughter Jess

(EDVSA) in Ottery St Mary has agreed to host the project, and has put £5,000 into it.

But another £4,000 is needed to get the one-year pilot in Axminster established.

Debbie said: "We are hoping that once the pilot is up and running, and successful, we will then be able to apply for more long-term funding."

The project is aimed at any young person (aged 12-24) affected by mental illness and their parents or carers.

Anyone interested in joining or sponsoring the project can call Debbie on 07977 836 380 or email debbie@fieldmaple.co.uk

The core purposes of the project are to provide information and support by:

- ◆ providing an information centre (and website)
- ◆ offering a peer support group to young people affected by mental health issues
- ◆ providing a regular support group for the parents/carers of young people affected by their mental health issues,
- ◆ promoting mental health awareness in the community to help break down the stigma and discrimination associated with mental illness

Zumba fundraiser for the RNLI

by Laura Goldsbury Noy
laura@pemedi.co.uk

"I would like to say a massive thank you to everyone who joined both Audrey Tims and myself in the thirty minutes of 'Zumba on Saturday' and to those who kindly donated towards the event.

"I am very proud to announce that our own little Zumba family efforts contributed enormously to the final sum raising £154.40 towards the total on the day."

Secretary of the Seaton, Beer and District RNLI, Wendy Cummins, added: "We are delighted with the success of our RNLI SOS morning, with a total of £368.45 from the event plus a further £61.35 of separate sales from RNLI merchandise.

"Thank you to everyone who came along to the SOS Day and to all those who joined in Zumba, as well as thanks to Johanna for her wonderful routines and support."

The group is now looking forward to their next branch event, which is the annual meeting on Tuesday, March 12th, at 7:30pm in the function room of the Dolphin Hotel, Beer.

'ZUMBA on Saturday' was the theme for RNLI supporters in Beer when they jumped on board the charity's SOS Day.

Volunteers from the Seaton, Beer and District RNLI had an extra twist this year at their annual event, when they welcomed local zumba instructor Johanna Morgan to bring same shimmy shaking fun to the morning.

Held at the Mariners Hall last Saturday, the room was packed full of the usual stalls from stacks of homemade cakes and RNLI merchandise to a raffle and refreshments for the national fundraising day.

Whilst coffee morning goers enjoyed their teas and coffees, they were invited to step up and join in a half-an-hour zumba session, where dancers were asked to give a little to the lifeboat charity.

Joined by representatives of the RNLI, a huge group took to the floor to join in the zumba fun, shaking and dancing to help boost funds.

Johanna Morgan, Adult and Children's Zumba Fitness Instructor in Seaton, Sidford and Sidmouth was thrilled with the response to the event.

She said: "I was thrilled to have been invited to instruct Zumba at the RNLI's biggest fundraising day.

"I for one very much appreciate the time given by these volunteers to protect our shores with their selfless, dependable, trustworthy and courageous efforts to help prevent loss of life at sea.

"There was a great feeling of community spirit in the Mariners Hall on Saturday and I am very pleased to say that the event was a huge success in raising much needed funds for a charity which everyone in this part of the West Country depends upon.

"I was absolutely delighted with the amount of participants who took part which included many from my own dance fitness classes, held across East Devon.

West Walk footpath reopened

A FOOTPATH in Seaton has reopened following a landslide.

The fire and rescue service was called to Cliff Field Gardens off the Esplanade, just after noon on Saturday, January 26th.

A spokesperson for the fire brigade said concern was expressed about a metal bar, which was visible "in a precarious location behind beach huts."

He added: "Fire crews confirmed a length of approximately one hundred metres of cliff face made unstable by a landslide."

"Fire crews confirmed the unstable condition of the cliff face was a danger to members of the public using the walkway below and awaited the arrival of East Devon District Council (EDDC) who closed the public footpath to the public."

An EDDC spokesperson added: "We temporarily closed a section of West Walk following reports of metal tubing sticking out from the cliff face."

"Our Street Scene team responded quickly to the issue and removed the tubing by hand on Monday morning, finding it to be part of an old wind-surf pole."

"We reopened the West Walk soon after."

Lions boost for League of Friends

REPRESENTATIVES of Seaton and District Hospital League of Friends were recognised for their vital work when members of the Seaton and District Lions Club handed over £200.

The dedicated group of volunteers who support Seaton Hospital aim to raise money for the purchase of much needed equipment and comforts for the benefit of local patients and staff.

The money raised by the Lions came from collections at the town's Co-op store late last year when the public donated £148, and the group rounded up the total to £200 for their donation.

Pam Page collected the donation on behalf of the League of Friends and thanked the Lions for their kind donation, which will contribute towards their ongoing work to support Seaton Hospital.

Householder's fear over fence

AN AXMINSTER resident fears someone could have a nasty accident if a building site isn't fenced off properly. The company involved, however, says the fence in question has nothing to do with them.

Cheryl Thomasgood's house in Swain Close borders an ongoing Betterment Properties (Weymouth) Ltd development.

Cheryl claims that Betterment some time ago asked for permission to have access to a strip of her land during construction of new houses nearby.

She gave permission and claims the developer erected a fence close to her front door to make sure the site was sealed off.

But part of the fence has blown off and she claims to have contacted Betterment in October last year.

However, the gaping hole in the fence remains and she is concerned that, although they should know better, children may climb through and have an accident.

The strip is, in effect, a no man's land and leads to a potentially dangerous area with a steep drop.

By Anders Larsson
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

Cheryl, who is in an ongoing legal dispute with the developer about other matters at her property, said: "I was given the impression it would be boarded up, but nothing happened."

Warning to people

"It is pitch black in the evening, I don't want someone to have an accident. I'm thinking of putting some tape across to warn other people."

Betterment agree it has been granted access to her land, but deny any responsibility for the fence in question.

A spokesperson said: "Betterment did require access to the southern area of Ms Thomasgood's garden and removed a fence to the west of her land to have built a retaining structure to support the southern boundary of Cheryl Thomasgood and others.

"At no time did we have access through a fence by her front door, nor have any need for such."

"All access would be from Betterments' own adjoining land to the south and west. "Our site manager does recall part of a fence being missing when he went to Ms Thomasgood's front door last year and much more appears missing now, none of which relates to Betterment."

"We have tried to re-erect the fence we took down on the western boundary but Ms Thomasgood would not now allow our fencing contractor to do so."

Surge in oil thefts

AXMINSTER police have again urged property owners to make their oil tanks as secure as possible after a spate of thefts in and around the town.

Heating oil and diesel - with a combined value of approximately £4,500 - have been stolen from domestic and commercial properties since Friday January 11th.

Heating oil have been stolen from properties in Cooks Lane in Axminster, Hawkechurch and Wyke.

In addition, diesel was stolen from commercial premises in Axminster at some point between 5pm on Tuesday, January 15th and 7.30am the following day.

PCSO Andy Trott repeated a plea for homeowners to check their tanks on a regular basis and keep them as secure as possible.

As previously reported, a partnership between Devon and Cornwall Police and East Devon District Council offers alarmed padlocks at £7 a go.

PCSO Trott stressed that the partnership sells the locks on a no-profit basis and outlets include Axminster Police Station.

When promoting the type of padlock last year, he said: "It is triggered by tampering and goes off at 110 decibel, so makes quite a noise."

Anyone wishing more information, or who has information regarding the spate of oil thefts, is asked to call police on 101 and ask for Axminster Police Station.

AXMINSTER Twinning Association recently held its combined annual meeting and dinner at the Ridgeway Country Hotel.

On a very cold evening, the occasion was well attended in comfortable and warm surroundings.

Caroline Hilyard (pictured) was re-elected chairman and a new secretary and treasurer were also elected.

Members were told that 2012 had been a successful year for the association, with a visit to France together with number of social events and recruitment.

Three new members were welcomed and following dinner, there was entertainment and a quiz.

Another trip to Axminster's twinned town of Douvres la Delivrande is to take place in April. A number of social events have already been planned, with more to follow. These include, a joint skittles evening with our local twinning partners, a walk in Colyford's wetlands followed by a shared supper and a film evening.

New members are always welcome and the ability to speak French is not a requirement but an appreciation of French culture and a good social life is.

Those who would like more information or how to join should contact Caroline Hilyard on 01297 34497 or our membership secretary Jasmine Littlewood on 01297 32755.

CLUBS NEWS

■ AXMINSTER Catenians invited their local clergy to the January meeting and dinner, held at Lyme Regis Golf Club. Although there were a number of absences, the guinea fowl and speeches provided an enjoyable evening for those able to attend. Pictured above are, from left, Canon George Carrick from Seaton, Father Michael Galloway from Chard, Catenians President Nat Bruzon from Axminster, Father Michael Koppel from Axminster, Monsignor Robert Draper of Sherborne. Catenians are Catholic men who meet regularly for social activities - often with their families. They are part of an international organisation which has over 10,500 members and recently celebrated their centenary. Members of Axminster Catenians are drawn from East Devon, West Dorset and South Somerset.

U3A celebrates success at first AGM

THE first annual general meeting of Seaton U3A (University of the Third Age) was held in January at Seaton Town Hall.

The main business was for the standing committee to retire and make way for an executive committee, voted in by the members, to take its place. The meeting was chaired by Barbara Cooper, the retiring chairman who gave an account of the first meeting of those interested in forming a Seaton branch in January 2012, attended by 142 people.

Since then, Seaton U3A has not looked back, with 20 groups now enjoying classes and activities either in their group leaders' houses or in the Town Hall's small rooms. Some of the groups have waiting lists already.

In addition, monthly meetings are arranged in the Town Hall for socialising between the groups, information about what is available for prospective members and a cup of tea and biscuits. After tea there is a talk of general interest by an outside speaker.

January's speaker was Andy Brown, a driving instructor and part of a team working at Westpoint, with advisors from Devon and Cornwall Constabularies, and other driving organisations. His talk was named "Driving into Old Age".

Mr Brown said 95 per cent of accidents were caused by driver error but most could be prevented by awareness. The next meeting at the Town Hall, under the new Chairman, Warwick Turley, will be on February 26th at 2pm when Philip Algar will give a talk entitled "Goodbye Old Chap - a Life at Sea in Peace and War".

Membury farm excels in forage production

MEMBURY farmers Trevor and Carol Johnson triumphed at the Mole Valley Farmers Forage for Profit Awards 2013.

A total of 18 finalists across six categories gathered to celebrate excellence in forage production at an awards ceremony at the Redwood Hotel, Bristol,

by Anders Larsson
anders@pemedial.co.uk

Thursday January 24th.

They also looked back on a challenging year which had featured the wettest summer in the last 100 years combined with the lowest sunshine rates for 30 years.

Trevor and Carol Johnson of Twist Farm, Membury, clinched the Dairy Award (Sponsored by British Seed Houses).

A Mole Valley spokesperson explained why they won, saying: "Trevor and Carol have a herd of 170 cows producing approximately 8,000 litres per cow, with a feed rate of only 0.27kg per litre and an impressive 3,600 litres from forage."

"Palatable, good quality forage (grass silage and whole crop wheat) forms the cornerstone of the business."

"This year's high intake potential grass silage has helped to continue to move the physical and financial performance of the unit forward."

"A total reliance on family labour and a unique, trailer-based forage feeding system are interesting aspects of the unit."

"The judges (professor Liam Sinclair from Harper Adams University, Paul Billings - MD of British Seed Houses and Dr Chris Bartram - head of nutrition at Mole Valley Farmers) were impressed by the attention to detail on forage production, nutrition (provided by Mole Valley specialist Martin Coles) and the focus on cost control.

"They also noted the focus on key goals for the future and the openness to take on board new ideas to move the unit forward."

The Forage for Profit Awards recognises farmers in the following categories: grazing, big bale, beef and sheep, maize, dairy and most improved.

The awards evening also included a presentation on future developments in forage production from professor Liam Sinclair of Harper Adams who was also a judge for the Dairy Award category.

The Mole Valley Farmers Forage for Profit initiative delivers expert advice and guidance on forage production from cutting dates to weed control through specially trained staff and dedicated publications.

Fun in the snow
and rain

Children at Shute Little Acorns Pre-School made the most of the recent snow fall and subsequent rain.

The youngsters had great fun making snowmen and having snowball fights and, after the snow had melted, they sang in the rain.

Pre-school leader Michele Young explained: "No matter what, we always make sure we get outside. There are so many things that can be done outside - you don't have to only learn in a classroom."

Little Acorns Pre-School is within the grounds of Shute Community Primary School and open during term time. More information is available on 07892 899 236.

A step forward for Feniton flood defences

A FLOOD defence scheme for Feniton has been approved in principle and given green status of DEFRA's funding plan - the best status available.

The in-principle agreement came from Environment Agency's Project Appraisal Board. The project aims to solve a problem with the watercourse which runs through the village and then comes up against the railway track, where it backs up.

East Devon District Council (EDDC) is the scheme's lead authority.

A spokesperson said: "In a nutshell, the hope is to install a bigger one-metre wide pipe underneath the railway. We're extremely pleased to see this important scheme take a big step forward."

"Although the precise amount of DEFRA funding and timescale has yet to be determined, this means we can start on the fine detail of the plan and have discussions with the Environment Agency and Devon County Council about making up the likely remaining funding."

"As with any major scheme there are a lot of steps along the way, but this has been a really important one which gives us much more confidence that a scheme can be achieved."

The district council's draft budget proposes investing £500,000 over the next two years towards a £1.6million scheme.

Speaking of the in-principle agreement, Ottery district councillor Roger Giles said: "There are other hurdles to get over, but the decision this morning was a very significant step forward."

"I am really hopeful that the scheme will be delivered in the not too distant future - hopefully within a year or so."

Pulman's View

from the churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

JOHN Streeting, Rector of the Axe Valley Mission Community, writes: The church's year moves on to the 40 days of Lent and then from Easter to Ascension Day.

The Christmas celebrations lasted until the Feast of Candlemas on February 2nd, which celebrates the presentation of the baby Jesus to God in the temple in Jerusalem, and the purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary 40 days after she gave birth.

The concept of ritual purification seems very strange to us today, but it stems back to the Jewish tradition that women were considered unclean after the birth of a child.

For 40 days for a boy and 60 days for a girl, women were not allowed to worship in the temple.

After this time, women came to the temple to be purified and allowed to join in services again.

The celebration of Candlemas is so called because it was the day that all the church candles were blessed and placed in windows to ward off evil, and marked the halfway point between the winter solstice and the spring equinox. I am sure we are all relieved to know that we have reached that point in the year!

So on Ash Wednesday evening at 7:30pm (February 13th) there will be Holy Communion and Imposition of Ashes at Musbury Church for the Colyton Mission Community.

Seaton Christian Aid Group are offering Sip-A-Soup Lent Lunches for £3.50, fortnightly on Fridays at the URC Hall, from 12-1:30pm on February 22nd, March 8th & March 22nd.

St Paul's at Honiton offers lunches every Wednesday starting on February 13th, from 12-2pm, with proceeds to Christian Aid (less March 6th when they go to St James Hospital in Lesotho).

The churches of the Colyton Mission Community offer a Lent Course on Monday evenings at 7:30pm starting at Branscombe on February 18th and moving each week – details from the Benefice Office on 01297 552307.

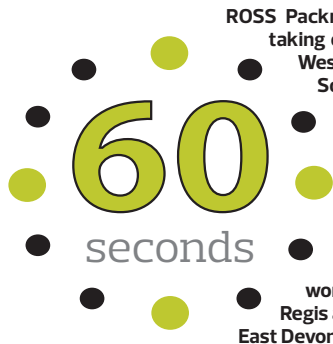

Still at Branscombe, the Branoc Hall on Saturday, February 23rd at 12 noon is the venue for a simple lunch (£3.50) with proceeds to Water Aid.

The Mackarness Hall Honiton welcomes St Mary's Church Luppitt table-top sale on Saturday, March 16th – enquiries to book a table on 01404 45308.

The details of the National Churches Trust Grants 2013 programmes have just been launched.

The scheme covers the Repair Grants Programme such as urgent repairs with a focus on roofs and gutters with a cost of at least £50,000 for listed and unlisted churches. Grants are from £10,000 to £40,000.

Community Grants Programme also projects to install facilities that will enable wider community use at listed and unlisted buildings of any denomination. Grants will be from £5,000 to £25,000. Contact <http://nationalchurchestrust.org/supporting-churches/grants/welcome.php>

ROSS Packman, from Raymonds Hill near Axminster, is taking on the 630-mile challenge of hiking the South West Coast Path this year in aid of the Alzheimer's Society.

He chose to support the charity after seeing the affects of the illness first hand when his late paternal grandmother suffered with dementia, and he was inspired to take on the hiking challenge by Paul Smith's 2009 'Twitchhiker' adventure. Ross' own adventure will be called 'Forgotten Paths'.

The former Woodroffe School pupil, now 27, works as a bar manager at The Harbour Inn in Lyme Regis and is also a volunteer with the National Trust in East Devon.

● HOW did you come up with the idea of Forgotten Paths?

My main inspiration was Paul Smith's 2009 'Twitchhiker' adventure, in which the writer hitchhiked from Newcastle to New Zealand, via Europe and the USA, on only the goodwill gestures of Twitter users.

I found it incredible that our much-maligned social media nevertheless holds the power to genuinely bring together people on the global stage to assist in charitable endeavours.

I hope to emulate that on a much smaller scale with Forgotten Paths, by using Facebook, Twitter and Couchsurfing to find places to stay as I hike, encouraging word-of-mouth about both my adventure, and my chosen charity.

● WHY choose the Alzheimer's Society as your charity?

My late paternal grandmother was a dementia sufferer, which means I have first-hand experience of the effects of dementia on both the sufferer, and those around them.

There are 800,000 people with dementia in the UK, with numbers set to rise to one million by 2021. While it is possible to develop dementia early in life, the chances of doing so increase dramatically with age. One in 50 people between the ages of 65 and 70 have a form of dementia, compared to one in five people over the age of 80.

Taking into account that in 2010, 39 per cent of the population of the South West was aged 50 or over, a percentage set to increase, the area in which we live is one that will be in particular need of the care and support provided by the Alzheimer's Society in the future.

● WHAT are you most looking forward to about the challenge?

Large stretches of the South West Coast hold special memories for me, so I'm looking forward to revisiting favourite spots with a fresh perspective.

The collaborative nature of Forgotten Paths means that I'm hoping to meet lots of new, not to mention altruistic, people. If I reach Poole unscathed, I hope the hike will have been an empowering experience. A tan would be nice too.

● WHAT are you most worried about?

Angry farmers, fifty days of torrential rain, and pumas!

● HAVE you been doing any training for the challenge?

I've been walking regularly since taking part in the Three Peaks challenge last year, with Chideock to Lyme along the South West Coast Path being a favourite route.

I recently completed the second half of the East Devon Way, an inland route that starts in Exmouth and ends on the county border in Uplyme.

On top of regular hikes, I've been swimming three hours a week and I try to get out sea-kayaking whenever the surf, weather and/or fishing are favourable!

● WHAT route are you taking?

I start Forgotten Paths in Minehead, Somerset, before heading west along the north coasts of Devon and Cornwall, around Land's End and the Lizard Peninsula, before returning east, passing Lyme Regis in around the fifth week, and finishing at South Haven Point, Poole.

● WHAT will you be taking with you?

I need to be prepared to wild camp if Twitter fails me on the trip, so I'll be carrying the necessary camping equipment such as a tent, sleeping bag and cooking equipment.

I'm currently approaching corporate sponsors for assistance, so if any companies would like to get involved, head over to www.forgottenpaths.org

● WHAT do you like about living in the area?

I would say that the Jurassic Coast is surely one of the most arresting landscapes in the world. The juxtaposition of rugged coastline and the quintessentially British pastoral interior is something you'd be hard pressed to find anywhere else.

● WHAT would you change about the area if you could?

While studying for my music management and marketing degree, I was heavily involved in the grassroots UK live scene.

For all the politics and egotism, I still miss being immersed in that culture, and wish the area could sustain the same level of musical community.

Thanks go to county for 'early Christmas present'

■ I WRITE to thank Devon County Council for their "early Christmas present" (Pulman's View, January 29th) of the section of the Stop Line Way - Weycroft to Cloakham.

I am sure we will all learn to love this ribbon of black tarmac stretching off through the wild meadows in our wonderful countryside.

Their other "early Christmas present", their inadequate and misleading signing of the 8pm overnight bridge closure that accompanied the building of this project, was less welcome.

Only after many residents in villages north of the Weycroft bridge had been left floundering through unfamiliar countryside to get home did their project leader, with some encouragement, personally inform Smallridge Neighbourhood Watch of the actual date that Weycroft bridge was to be closed for the new wooden bridge to be put in place, enabling a group email to be circulated to our parish members for them to plan their lives too.

I have already posted my 2013 Christmas Wish List. It is for Santa's little helpers to work to mitigate the flooding at Weycroft bridge, north side, that occurs several times a year.

Cars, vans, lorries and artics, finding their way blocked by water, choose to explore the wonders of Smallridge and All Saints as a way through to Chard. All single lane roads, with no footpaths, cars travelling both ways and all in a hurry, verges and gardens have been extensively damaged.

Drivers seem to have little regard to walking residents and schoolchildren.

My Christmas stocking is already at the end of my bed.

Parking meters no benefit to anyone

■ I HAVE written several times since parking meters were imposed on the town's esplanade.

The main message to Devon County Council is that this imposition has cost far more to administrate and police than any imaginary revenue generated, plus assisted in wrecking Seaton's regeneration ambitions.

I well remember the farcical "consultation" meeting at Seaton Town Hall where traffic officers insisted that parking meters would be installed to assist traffic flow and ease congestion in the extremely busy town shopping centre and seafront (really?).

I was also told that it was illegal to use any parking revenue to assist cash strapped council's coffers, it was supposed to be a stand alone department of DCC.

Now there is no hiding the fact that councils are using shoppers or visitor parking charges to bolster council income.

That might work in Exeter or Exmouth, but has proved a costly disaster all around for Seaton and DCC. The meters, manpower, vehicles, uniforms and not to mention office costs, has meant that nobody benefitted. Some accountability please DCC?

Harepath Road, Seaton

Local businesses a let down

■ WE live in Honiton and purchased a property that was built by a local builder using local tradesmen.

Some years later the local tradesmen's handy work came to notice and required a very large insurance claim - the NHBC really do pay out. They employed non-local tradesmen instead of using known and trusted companies from afar. Now these companies needed a place for their work force to stay locally and, asking my advice, I wrongly pointed them in the direction of the only place I could think of.

I now find that they did take my advice, the work force booked in, went to the rooms and booked out in total disgust - it was filthy. They went to Exeter for that night and travelled in for the rest of the time.

At the completion of the work the builders decided to use a local cleaning company - big mistake. Health and safety prevented them cleaning the outside windows on a bungalow, the insurance prevented them using a "bladed implement" to clean deposits off the inside of the windows, the new floor was "cleaned" with dirty water and heaven knows what the kitchen worktop was "cleaned" with. They didn't skimp on the bill mind.

These companies will know who they are and I hope will feel ashamed but I won't be holding my breath. Now on a positive note a local "one man band" gardener agreed to keep the grass, etc. trim and tidy and did so with no fuss or bother. He will be used again when the builders/NHBC require a local gardener here in Honiton. The others... well, what do you think?

Dog fouling 'becoming ridiculous'

■ I READ with interest your article on dog fouling on the new cycle path, and the fact that a dog warden is going to be checking the area and handing out fines.

Perhaps Mr Moulding would like to employ the same tact in the town where it matters most.

As a responsible dog owner it angers me when it is actually safer for me to walk in the road around the town than on the pavement for the fear of walking in dog mess. On my walk from the car park this morning (January 29th) to the office, I had to dodge five piles of the stuff.

I stopped an old lady on the church green the other day who walked off and left her dog's business on the grass.

Walking through Old North Street last week I counted six piles of the stuff. It's becoming ridiculous.

What is Mr Moulding going to do about that, I ask myself?

Can't give up hospital without a fight

■ REGARDING the talk about the possible changes at Axminster hospital, how discouraging to all the people who support the League of Friends that helped to pay for all the upgrading of the hospital.

If we allow the government to have its way without a fight, as Councillor Mervyn Symes expresses, then we deserve what inevitably will happen.

Our hospital will desperately be needed in years to come when the huge housing development that is talked about in our town takes place and, believe me, it will as most developers get their way in the end.

MARRIAGE WEEK is a great annual focus for couples to take time to pause and learn some new skills to take their marriages from good to very good! We believe that the wedding day is only the start and that all marriages can get better and better with each passing year.

Marriage Week celebrates healthy marriages – the union of a man and a woman who make a permanent and exclusive commitment to each other, primarily though not exclusively, with the intent of procreation and the raising of children. We believe that this social institution, which has been enshrined in the history of civilization, provides vital inter-generational links and stability bringing benefits to all of society.

Have you noticed how life can get extremely busy. In fact so busy that it's all too easy to forget the connectedness that inspired you to marry in the first place! It's not even as though being busy is a bad thing. Often we are busy doing good things, like looking after children, moving house, new jobs, homework and so on, and there lies the challenge, in the midst of all this activity we just forget to look after our marriages.

Marriages need time and content to grow and flourish. So this Marriage Week why not do the some kind of event, and see what your relationship might be like if you nurtured it a bit more.

So Marriage Week is a massive aide-memoire to the nation which says; "if your fortunate enough to be in a marriage – then you should look after it".

Get Involved in Marriage Week!

Here's some ideas to get you started!

Romance each other for a week – take time out to do the things you did when courting that made that time magical!

Write love notes to each other and leave them around your home for each other to discover

Re-affirm your wedding vows – ask your local church or registrar what opportunities they can offer – or just do it in a private ceremony yourselves with family and friends

Invite some other married couples round for a romantic dinner and then watch a movie together to celebrate the good times.

Invite round some singles or those separated in their relationships, just for a happy evening with you – let your love for each other do the talking

Make a "love-making pact" with each other, committing you to making love with each other every night for the week – and watch the impact on the rest of the year!

Buy a book (or DVD) on strengthening your marriage and read (or watch) it together this week.

Write each other a love letter telling your spouse just how special they are and what you appreciate about them. Lower the lights, and read your letters to each other.

I have a Market Stall in Honiton on Saturdays which every week there are different displays of cakes but also cakes to buy at sensible prices. I have had a lot of great customers and the comments and feed back have been outstanding. I stock kits to make beer, wine, and cider, bottles, demi john's (plastic, new glass or used), pressure barrels, gas injectors, CO2 cylinders, base spirits, concentrates, yeast, wine, beer and cider kits, seals, corks, labels, brewing sugar, malt and so much more.

FLEXIBLE TONING

JOANNE Cheesman, owner of Flexible Toning in Colyton, explains why toning machines are the answer for thousands of people.

"I hate gyms, I find them intimidating places, full of toned, healthy people, who spend hours on the treadmill and make it look effortless, I don't relate to that.

I wanted to tone my body without all that effort, in a calm and friendly environment but with all the same, great results."

We offer two types of toning machines, our multi-tone beds are suitable for all age groups and are even recommended by physiotherapists.

The beds do all the hard work and are so easy to use, each programme targets a different core muscle group within your body, even the less mobile can use them.

Our vibrating plate machines offer a super quick, high intensity workout in a fraction of the time and this is achieved by simply standing on the machine.

We offer all our new customers a free trial and this consultation works out which type of machine and programmes will best suit them to achieve maximum results, by targeting specific problem areas.

You can contact Flexible Toning on 01297 552951 or by emailing them at info@flexibletoning.co.uk.

More information is also available on their website flexibletoning.co.uk.

MELANIE BROWN'S HAIR & BEAUTY SALON

Beautiful Eyebrows come to Axminster

ALWAYS looking to improve the variety of treatments available, the staff at Melanie Brown's have spent some of the winter training with the guru of HD brows, Nilam Patel and preparing to offer the latest trend or fashion statement on the high street. Often called the 15 minute facelift, the salon can now offer HD brows exclusively in East Devon.

Eyebrows are a too often neglected area of many beauty regimes. Some have been over plucked, waxed and shaped for years and have little brow left. Some are ignored and hidden under a fringe.

They are the focal point of your face and therefore should always be perfectly preened to accentuate your features.

With eyebrows being hot news amongst celebrities of late, led by the beautiful Kate Middleton, perhaps it is time to tame, tease and tint to make the most of them. Indeed HD brows have been taking the industry by storm. Celebrities from around the world have been flocking to Milton Keynes for the new seven-step brow treatment.

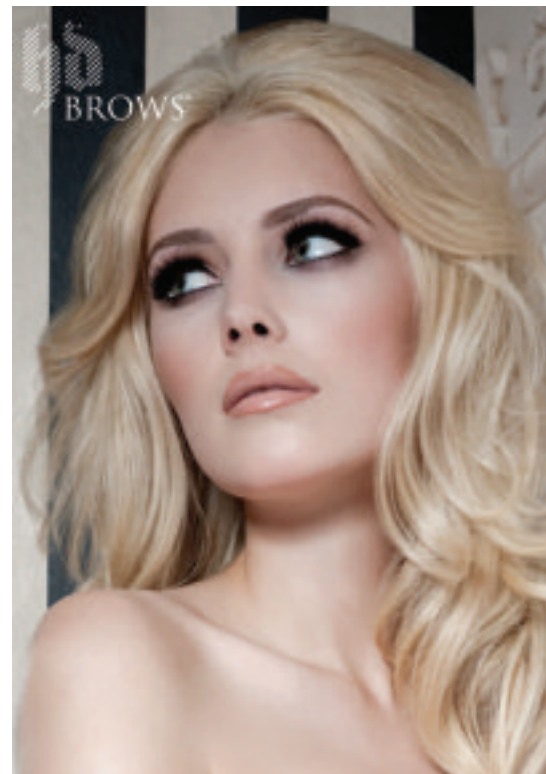

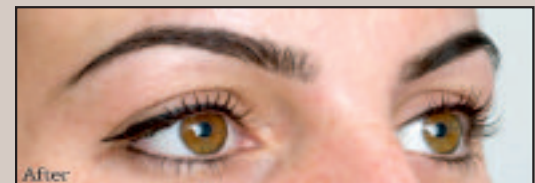

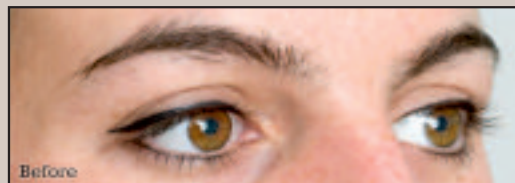

HD brows focus on design. It involves a combination of techniques, including tinting waxing and threading using specialist HD brow products. There is also a full range of products you can purchase to enhance your brows in between visits.

Repeat HD treatments will be required at intervals depending upon how quickly your hair grows, but on average four weeks is seems to be about right.

Most people get the HD Brows look immediately and the beauty of this treatment is that it can be tailored to the individual as they have to suit your look and personality. Your brows can be made dark or light, thick or thin, sharp or soft. Your input is important in deciding the best shape and look for you. Your HD stylist will consider your hair growth, look, colouring and face shape when deciding or suggesting your brow design.

For information about this treatment please feel free to drop into the salon to discuss with Melanie or ring her on 01297 35667.

Express yourself in High Definition

HD Brows is the unique professional eyebrow styling treatment that is totally designed around you. Nothing else comes close to achieving glamorous couture eyebrows.

Tickets on sale for rockin' new season at The Barn

FEATURING primarily world famous Electric and Acoustic Rhythm and Blues and Rock acts plus the very best tributes, The Barn at the Square+Compass was established in May 2003 and is now entering its ninth year. The relatively intimate atmosphere of the venue has a reputation for presenting national and world class acts that normally play large Theatres and Festivals. Food is available from 7pm in the Pub and a Sunday carvery is now available to book.

The new season line up kicks off on Friday, February 8th, and sees a fantastic show with the reformed Slim Chance, Ronnie Lanes old band. For a glorious look at Ronnies career and the start of Slim Chance check out the 'Passing Show' DVD, re-telling the Ronnie Lane saga with all the 70s legends. Ronnie Lane, renowned for his part in both the Small Faces and the Faces, wrote some of the most heartfelt and haunting songs of the 60s and 70s.

When the Faces broke up, Ronnie went back to his roots playing pubs and toured circus-style with his band Slim Chance, and the spirit of those times has been lovingly recreated by a latter-day version, a melting pot of rock, folk and blues influences, with some Gypsy leanings and a sprinkling of Motown grooviness.

Now Slim Chance is treading the boards again. Ronnie always jokingly claimed that he found the musicians for Slim Chance in the pages of Exchange and Mart. In 2010 Charlie Hart and Steve Simpson trawled the streets of South London and miraculously found three more ex-Slim Chancers who were all keen to sign up again to the quest for Ronnie's musical holy grail. Original members Charlie Hart, Colin Davey, Steve Bingham, Steve Simpson and Alun Davies have been described as '64 carat gold musicians', and they have recently released a well-received respective CD, 'The Show-Goes On' featuring their guests Geraint Watkins and Nick Pentelow, playing Ronnie's timeless material.

The reborn Slim Chance deliver a dynamic and entertaining show, celebrating the range of Ronnie Lane's later music. Slim Chance feature numbers such as Kushty Rye, The Poacher, How Come, Flags and Banners and Ooh La La presented in a style gloriously true to the genius of Ronnie Lane. The line-up has gelled into a fine band and become a powerful entity in its own right. It's no surprise that festivals are now turning to Slim Chance as they represent good-time music at its very best and A great night out for everyone!

A celebratory birthday gig for Promoter Dave Saunders takes place on Saturday, February 16th with the appearance of his old band the Rolling Drunks!

They said it could never happen, but almost-legendary rockin' blues masters The Rolling Drunks are reforming for this one Somerset gig! The Dorset band tore up the local live music scene in the late 1980s and early 1990s before succumbing to the demands of growing up, mortgages and model citizenship. With their (literally) incendiary blend of superfast R&B, lager and lighter fuel, they released two cassette albums, a series of t-shirts and all manner of on-stage shenanigans, supporting the likes of the Fine Young Cannibals, Small Faces/Humble Pie singer Steve Marriott and Groundhogs' leader Tony McPhee, played at Colne and Burnley blues festivals and took Germany by storm along the way.

With the original line up scattered to the four corners of the country - and Japan - organising the reunion was no mean feat, but harpist and main mood generator Carl Wilson persevered.

"I've got a big birthday that weekend and couldn't think of anything better to do than get the Drunks back together, so we met up and nobody flinched, had a couple of rehearsals and we're ready to go," he says. "It's probably all downhill from here - a Rolling Drunk gathers no moss and all that!"

Carl will be joined by original singer/guitarist Simon Clay, drummer Simon Lyne and keyboardist Chris Tetley, with bassist Dave Saunders. "It's Dave's birthday that weekend as well, as well as managing us he became our second or third bassist - the Drunks' bassist was always a bit like the Spinal Tap drummer, we got through a few! he's now playing and touring with The Producers and quite famous in the blues world" says Carl.

The band's actual birthday is lost in the mists of time, but Carl remembers: "We got a band together, but exactly when that was I've no idea - we just worked out the band must be 25 years old, half the Rolling Stones' age!"

If you like the energy of the early Feelgoods, Stones, Eddie + the HotRods, rave era Yardbirds and manic British R'n'B - this is the band for you!

Tickets are on sale now.

Future dates are:

March 3rd - TALON The Acoustic sessions.

March 8th - STEVE GIBBONS BAND.

March 17th - HAZEL O'CONNOR

PRINTMAKING AND ANIMATION EXHIBITION AND WORKSHOPS AT THELMA HULBERT GALLERY

THIS year's Animated Exeter exhibition at Thelma Hulbert Gallery, Honiton focuses on the wonderful world of printmaking, showcasing animations which feature a variety of printmaking techniques. Examples range from experimental animations by celebrated print studio Double Elephant in Exeter to the award winning 'A-Z', a 3 minute short, three years in the making, recounting the creation of the first London A-Z, which was directed by Sally Arthur and produced by Katie Daniels for Bristol based production company ArthurCox.

For the duration of this exhibition, you are invited to the gallery to have fun in the Project Space creating your own animations inspired by those on display.

A family 'Animation and Printmaking' drop-in workshop takes place on Tuesday, February 19th from 11am - 4pm. The workshop gives an opportunity to explore animation and printmaking together! Guided by Josh Gaunt and Double Elephant Print Workshop. Just drop-in anytime and have a go, suggested donation £2 per child.

Please note these activities are often busy, so remember, while you wait you can always explore the exhibition or enjoy a drink in the Shop and Refreshment Area.

On Thursday, February 21st, from 10-4pm, there will be a chance to Meet the Animators! Come and see animators and printmakers Josh Gaunt and Catherine Cartwright make an animation over the course of the day using monoprint, drypoint and stop-motion methods. Peer over their shoulders while they work and ask lots of questions. Please note: this is a demonstration, not a 'hands on' workshop.

The exhibition is open now until March 2nd. Admission is free, but donations welcomed. All donations help to support the THG learning and exhibition programme.

★ The Seafood Platter ★

'Icing on the cake' for seafood restaurant

AWARD winning gastro pub, The Seafood Platter, in Beer, has been named one of the most sustainable fish restaurants in the UK by Fish2Fork.

The campaigning restaurant guide for people who want to eat fish sustainably, acts as an online resource for all who enjoy eating out and want to eat seafood, which has been caught ethically with a low impact on the sea.

Having already being recognised for their emphasis on local sustainable produce and high quality ingredients by bodies such as the Taste of the West, the manager of The Seafood Platter, Luke Hunt, described the recognition as 'the icing on the cake' for their restaurant.

The Seafood Platter received the highest Fish2Fork rating with four and a half blue stars and registered as the 15th best sustainable seafood restaurant out of 585 UK restaurants registered to the site.

Mr Hunt said: "It is a fantastic achievement for us to hear that people can see where we have gone on our journey, having only changed to our name to the Seafood Platter in July 2012.

"We are so pleased that the restaurant has been recognised as one that focuses on sustainable produce that comes from the local area, supporting local farmers and fishermen, reducing the global footprint and aiding the local economy.

"The Seafood Platter has a strong seafood menu and being situated in a fishing village right by the sea, it has always been important to us to deliver the best and highest quality seafood available, whilst ensuring the fish comes from a sustainable and local source.

"Being recognised with four and a half stars on Fish2Fork has been the icing on the cake and the Hunt family are all very proud of how far we have come as a business since opening in 1990."

A spokesperson for Fish2Fork added: "Congratulations to the Seafood Platter restaurant in Beer for winning our 4.5 blue fish rating.

"If all restaurants took the same approach as The Seafood Platter our seas would be in a much better state.

"We are impressed by the strong and responsible environmental stance taken by the owners and heartily congratulate them on achieving a 4.5

blue fish rating.

"They don't serve farmed fish, they stopped using cod 15 years ago, and only use day boat fish. Bass is line-caught and they serve a mix of less familiar species such as pollock, whiting and gurnard. The top-class shellfish include oysters, spider and brown crab, mussels, scallops and lobster.

"We are delighted to award The Seafood Platter a rating that places it among the most sustainable fish restaurants in Britain and Europe."

Confi-dance takes a final bow, but something new is already waiting in the wings!

IT is said that as one door closes another one opens and today the closure of the theatre arts programme 'Confi-dance' will mark the birth of a new chapter about to be written.

Sara Perry the creator and originator of confidance has been involved in and produced, directed and choreographed over 15 productions over the last six years, some of which include Lost In Musicals, Bugsy Malone, Alice In Wonderland and Oliver.

Although this will be a sad day for some, Sara will continue to run her Streetdance classes on Fridays at Colyton Grammar Sports Hall, and also this spring will be the beginning of 'Mash Fusion' a new performance group and mash up of musical entertainment.

Sara Perry's vision is to bring together a number of individuals and fuse together different musical skills and styles.

Venues have already been booked for 2013 and training/rehearsals will begin in March.

An introductory workshop is being held in Colyton at the Reice Strawbridge Centre, Coly Road, costing £3n and taking place from 10am – 12pm. So if you are aged 7 years or over (including adults) and have a passion for dance, love to sing, have a yearn to act, or have special performance or variety skills, come along and share your talent.

Sara says "This a workshop and an opportunity to learn new skills and to gain insight on our future projects, show us your skills and have FUN!

"At the end of the workshop, after individuals have more info on what the project will entail, they will be given the opportunity to apply to 'Stage 2' where successful applicants will be trained in preparation to do live performances and competitions.

"I am looking for commitment, passion and personality. Not only will individuals have the opportunity to perform in a variety of different locations and venues in the UK, gaining experience of being part of a professionally run team but they will also have the chance of being offered roles within other companies.

"Venues have already been booked from June onwards and some dates will be given on application."

Also on the same day, a Baby Boogie' taster session, costing £2, will take place at 9.15am (pre-school age)

If you are unable to make the workshop or would like more information get in contact with Sara by calling 01297 23474 or 07584623682, or emailing mashfusion@mail.com

SPOTLIGHT ON MY SERVICE BIRTHWISE

Pregnancy Yoga and Active Birth

KARIN WALTERS teaches Pregnancy Yoga and Active Birth, Couple's Courses, and Motherhood Gatherings and also offers Pregnancy massage and Zero Balancing.

Karin attended Active Birth Classes during her own pregnancies and found it so immensely helpful and empowering that she decided that she had to pass that information on to other couples and she is as passionate as then about teaching these techniques. The classes are a combination of Pregnancy Yoga, relaxation and breathing techniques, coping with pain, helping the baby into optimal position for birth, practising positions for labour etc etc – all to give you the best possible chance of having a labour you can feel really good about.

Karin qualified as a Doula in 1998 and as a Natural Active Birth and Parenting (NAPAB) teacher in 1999. She started teaching weekly classes in Exeter in January 2001 and in Ottery St Mary in December 2006.

Karin is a qualified nurse, now retired, and has worked in various areas of nursing for 13 years. She qualified as a Massage Therapist in 1993 and as a Zero Balancer in 1998.

Together with her husband, Richard, Acupuncturist and Zero Balancer, they run The Natural Health Practice on Spicer Road in Exeter but they also practice from their home near Ottery St Mary. Since qualifying with NAPAB Karin has completed further training with Jean Sutton in Optimal Foetal Positioning and in the Rebozo Technique as well as various seminars with Michel Odent, Suzanne Colson and other leading specialists in the maternity field. Karin has also attended "Yoga for Pregnancy" and "Teaching Active Birth" at The Active Birth Centre in London with Janet Balaskas and is an Associate Member of The Active Birth Centre.

Pregnancy Massage and Zero Balancing is a wonderful way to support women through the whole process of conception, pregnancy, birth and postnatal recovery.

If you would like further information please look at our website www.birthwise.net or contact Karin on 01404 813784

Renault unveils new Scenic XMOD – iconic MPV reborn as a crossover

Sporty and elegant, New Scénic XMOD combines the outdoor cues of a crossover with the refined world of an MPV. With raised ground clearance and special alloy wheels, the car features an expressive crossover-inspired design: special front and rear bumpers, sill guards and chrome-finish roof bars across the range. The new front end is also more expressive, incorporating Renault's new design identity and signature LED daytime running lights.

To mark the launch of New Scénic XMOD (replacing Scénic in the UK), New Grand Scénic has been restyled to take on Renault's new design identity. The Renault logo at the front is now bigger and set against a gloss black background that emphasises the new grille. Elegant lines and high-quality materials also help to enhance the MPV's dynamic, family-oriented feel.

Technology on the inside

Inside New Scénic XMOD, the driver enjoys carefully thought out ergonomics, including a fixed centre console.

The rotary control for the all-new Grip Xtend traction control system and the multi-directional joystick control for the multimedia system are both easy to reach. Featuring a customisable TFT (Thin Film Transistor) digital display, the dashboard is dominated by the fully connected Renault R-Link 7" touchscreen multimedia system. The top-of-the-range version of XMOD includes a flat-bottomed steering wheel, aluminium-capped pedals and gear lever knob and new interior appointments. Rounding out the offer is new stitched upholstery and a Leather/Alcantara Pack. According to version, both New Scénic XMOD and New Grand Scénic include Bose® tailor-engineered sounds with class-leading acoustic performance.

New scenic XMOD: all the DNA of Renault Scenic

New Scénic XMOD retains the key features which have made Scénic the benchmark in the compact MPV segment. Its boot capacity is up to 555 litres, one of the biggest in its class. No less than 71 litres of additional storage space are cleverly spread around the cabin. New Scénic XMOD offers simple, effective and fast modularity: the seats are independent, folding and removable to provide a host of seating configurations for the occupants.

Grip Xtend on new Scenic XMOD

New Scénic XMOD is the first vehicle in the Renault range to feature the all-new Grip Xtend system. This advanced traction control system enables the vehicle to grip the road confidently under difficult driving conditions (mud, sand and fresh snow etc.). Manually activating the rotary control positioned on the centre console, the driver can choose from three types of assistance.

In 'Expert' mode, Grip Xtend manages the braking system, while leaving the driver in full control of the engine torque. The 'Road' mode offers conventional traction control settings, and this mode automatically reconnects at speeds of over 40kph. The 'Loose Ground' mode optimises braking control and engine torque control as a function of available grip.

Energy boost for the Scénic line

The latest Renault ENERGY engines share the same guiding principle, i.e. significantly reduced fuel consumption, CO2 emissions and running costs, while maximising driving enjoyment and reliability. Renault New Scénic XMOD and New Grand Scénic can all be ordered with the three new Energy powertrains. Especially noteworthy is the brand-new TCe 130 Stop & Start engine, boasting a 15% improvement on fuel consumption over the previous TCe 130 unit, equivalent to a combined-cycle saving of more than 1 litre/100km. This particularly smooth, yet responsive powerplant, combines genuine driving enjoyment and lively performance at all engine speeds.

Hallmark quality made in France

Since Scénic's release in 1996, 4,300,000 units have been produced at the Douai plant. Renault has built up its expertise on the strength of the rigour and professionalism of all the plant's employees. Renault has invested €420 million in adapting and upgrading the factory which will produce premium Renault models from 2014. This marks a new stage in Renault's quality policy involving each and every staff member. The 'Douai certified quality' plan is based on four pillars: a thorough understanding of quality standards and practices, everyday quality management, the highest level of skills and a stronger focus on perceived quality.

New Renault Scénic XMOD will make its world premiere on 5th March 2013 at the Geneva Motor Show. New Renault Grand Scénic will also be presented at the same show. Further information about its exact specification and availability will be released on this date.

Be safe, be seen with TwoZero

WITH its short days, long, dark nights and restricted visibility, there sometimes seems no end to winter. But for those who embrace winter riding, TwoZero has a range of high-visibility garments for bikers to be seen whatever the conditions.

'Safety with style' is the British company's mantra, stepping away from traditional reflective gear and presenting a fresh, modern look.

The X-Belt is TwoZero's latest offering and, as the name suggests, is an X-shaped hi-vis belt that fits comfortably over winter jackets and waterproofs.

Available in fluorescent yellow or a more subtle silver, the X-Belt increases rider visibility by wrapping around both sides of the torso. It's easy to wear, heavy duty and features unique, easily accessible mesh pockets front and back.

The X-Belt is side-fastening, made from 3M™ Scotchlite™ reflective material and is a UK registered design. It is available at stockists throughout the UK and priced at £24.99.

TwoZero products are distributed in the UK by Hampshire-based Nevis Marketing. For further information or to find a local stockist contact Nevis on 01425 478936.

Rise maintain grip on Hutchings cup

MATCH REPORTS

UPLYME 2 MILLWEY RISE RES 2 (AET)

MILLWEY RISE WON 2-1 ON PENALTIES

Daisy Hutchings Cup

CUP holders Millwey Rise Reserves booked their place in the last eight after a evenly contested match up at second division title favourites Uplyme.

Both teams looked rusty in front of goal after playing only a couple of games over the last wet two months. Millwey took a 1-0 lead into half-time through Shane Featherstone, but Gavin Fowler levelled straight from the kick-off after the restart.

The score stayed at 1-1 after 90 minutes. Uplyme then took a 2-1 led into the dying minutes of extra time courtesy of a Ryan Prendeville strike but were pegged back by a well directed header from Brad-Lee Miller.

The penalty shoot-out was one to forget for many of the takers, with many attempts skied over the cross bar but Millwey ended up 2-1 winners 2-1.

Millwey Reserves are scheduled to play Misterton Reserves at Harry's Field in the Bill Bailey Cup on Saturday (2pm KO).

ALPHINGTON 4 MILLWEY RISE 0

Axminster Hospital Cup
AFTER their Challenge Cup game was called off by Ilminster Reserves on Saturday, a bare XI Millwey side travelled to Alphington on Sunday afternoon, with three reserve team players, who played 120 minutes the day before.

They came up against a strong Alphington team with several Bideford players playing in their side, but still put in a spirited performance.

Special thanks goes to Keith Somers, who ran the line for the lads for the day.

Gary Bridge continues to take charge in Millwey Rise's next game back in league action next Saturday away at Crewkerne Town, as manager Kevin Turner is on his travels to Australia.

D&E LEAGUE ROUND-UP

PREMIER Division table-toppers FENITON scored twice in the last ten minutes to beat hosts NEWTOWN, 3-2, and salvage their unbeaten Premier record.

Fenny looked in trouble after going 2-1 down to Carl Lavis and Jake Hobbs strikes, but, from a controversial awarded corner kick, Dave O'Connor equalised and then top-scorer Charlie Selley, with his 24th goal of the season, squeezed in the winner. Andy Jones had earlier bagged Feniton's opener.

ST MARTINS won 3-1 at home to the UNIVERSITY Reserves to make sure that they stay in contention, but it was a tough game for the champions.

Having been two-up they let the College back in and were happy to see out time. Nathan Melton, (2), and Kevin Pike scored for the Saints.

HEAVITREE SOCIAL UNITED bounced back from last week's defeat to wreck BEER ALBION, 5-1.

Adam Place, Ben Murby, Stewart Tyrer, Ben Harris and Ryan Crocker shared the Heavitree goals, Richard Walker, with his eighth goal of the campaign, responded for the Fishermen whose search for a first away win continues.

LOWLY CLYST VALLEY shocked SEATON TOWN, 3-1, on their own patch with James Twitchin, Andy Fairburn and Ryan Saunders scoring. Mark Hancock netted for the Seaside.

Elsewhere, Two promotion chasers Beacon Knights proved too strong from Sidmouth Town, winning 4-1.

Down in division Five BEER ALBION RESERVES pouched a point with a 2-2 draw against Clyst Valley – a result which extends Matt Hales' team's unbeaten run to four matches.

Honiton Hornets 11 Teign 3rds 0

HIGH-FLYING Honiton racked up their highest goal tally of the season this week against Teign 3rds.

From the opening whistle Honiton were on the attack with Dawn Mayo claiming the first goal inside the opening five minutes.

Whilst play was a little scrappy initially, the hosts soon settled and were rewarded with a further 10 goals!

Amy Phillips scored one in each half, both from impressive manoeuvres around the Teign defence into the circle and strong finishing strikes past the Teign 'keeper. Laura Frank also scored two in similar fashion.

Vanessa Trude's goal came from a well worked series of passes leaving Trude to slot the ball in past the 'keeper. Sophie George's goal finished off a well placed pass to the top of the circle from Becky Hammed who was unlucky not to score herself minutes later.

Katrina Tucker's goal was, as usual, a fast accurate reverse stick shot which left the Teign defence with little hope.

Finally Lucy Le Cocq scored her first hat-trick of the season. The triple came from two open field goals and a solid conversion of a penalty corner pass from Laura Frank.

Player-of-the-Match was Laura Frank with Becky Hammett close behind.

Honiton remain top of Petroc Division 2 with an impressive 75 goals difference (85 scored with 10 against).

The team continue to practice on Wednesday evenings at Cullompton Sports Centre at 8.30pm until 9.30pm meeting in Honiton at 8pm.

New members are always welcome regardless of ability. For contact details please see www.wcwhl.co.uk/Public/Clubs.php.

cricket honiton Strawbridge steps up

HONITON Cricket Club's 2nd XI captain Andrew Lapping has decided to step aside after being in charge for 10 years with eight years as 2nd XI and two as 1st XI captain in between.

The out-going captain gave the following statement to the club's committee.

"Now that the second team are in the highest division they have ever been in and are also safe in that division and, but for availability and the weather, would of been possibly top four, I have decided it's time for me to step aside and concentrate on just playing, and for someone to bring fresh ideas to the team."

That person is second team leading batsmen/wicket keeper Tom Strawbridge.

"I will of course continue to play and help the club move forward and will support Tom who takes over the post," said Lapping.

"When everyone is available we have one the best squads around the area and, with a couple new additions, I'm sure both teams will compete next season."

League leaders fend off spirited Sidmouth

WITH WILL MOWBRAY

Sidmouth 19 North Petherton 24

THE CHIEFS put up a spirited performance to earn a bonus point against league leaders North Petherton, but will be reflecting on a crucial lapse of concentration at the start of the second-half, which proved decisive for the visitors.

The heavy surface made life difficult for both teams, who nonetheless produced an entertaining game. Also, it was a credit to the high standard of both kickers that they were each successful with five attempts out of six.

Territorially, play was pretty even during the first-half, but North Petherton were more clinical at turning pressure into points. The Chiefs turned down a couple of kickable penalty attempts in an unsuccessful search for tries and failed to sustain attacking positions.

In contrast the visitors turned early pressure into a try. They drove a lineout maul towards the line and when it was stopped the ball was released to the backs. The Sidmouth defence was caught too narrow giving a simple overlap for the right-winger to dart in at the corner. The try was unconverted.

For Sidmouth, flankers Alva Senderayi and Dwight Pansegrouw were constant threats with their strong, direct running, while Nick Mills and Dan Trim got through a lot of useful work at the breakdown and around the fringes. However, the back play lacked accuracy.

The North Petherton full-back kept the scoreboard ticking over for his side with two well-struck penalties before Tom Whelan opened Sidmouth's account with one of his own.

Then, in first-half injury-time, Ollie Pyne, in his first game back after a long injury break, came off the bench to replace the injured Trim and made an instant impact. He burst up-field from halfway to take play deep into the opposing 22. He linked with debutant winger Ben Dobson. He was brought down just short of the line, but Jason Luff was on hand to pick up and dive over. Whelan added the conversion to make the half-time score 10-11.

Just when the Chiefs needed to build on the momentum, the game moved decisively back to the visitors. The restart kick went directly into touch giving North Petherton a scrum on halfway. The back-row initiated a move down the right and a couple of missed tackles opened the way for the scrum-half to score on the overlap. The try was converted from wide out.

The Chiefs responded well and were soon pressing in the opposing 22. They were rewarded with a Whelan penalty. Minutes later a well angled Dan Retter kick forced North Petherton to concede a lineout close to their line.

Following a quick throw, Ollie Pyne dived over the line, but the try was disallowed because a spectator had touched the ball.

Sidmouth kept up the pressure. Both Pyne and Glenn Channing came close to scoring before a defending forward was yellow carded for an offence in a ruck. Tom Whelan kicked the resulting penalty.

The Chiefs could not capitalise further on their extra man. Instead North Petherton edged further ahead with two more penalties. Then, in injury time, Tom Whelan kicked a penalty from the halfway line to give his side a well-earned bonus point.

Totnes Seconds 41 Honiton Seconds 15

HONITON travelled to Totnes with the bare 15 and with several players playing out of position, Honiton went down 41-15.

With Totnes' first team without a game, the Laceman were greeted by a large squad and didn't get off to the best of starts. In attack Honiton looked dangerous but some poor tackling let them down and they soon found themselves several tries to nil down.

As always this season, Honiton's scrum was superior and this allowed a good platform for some good attacking play.

Unfortunately this couldn't be converted into points and the half time score was 28-3.

The Laceman were then guilty of drifting off and conceded another set of quick tries to make it 41-3 and potentially a big score was on the cards.

However, after a few stern words were shared under the posts, Honiton regrouped and dominated the remainder of the half.

From a line out the forwards mauled the ball well and close to the line the ball was popped to Churchward who crossed over, and the conversion by Carnall secured the seven points.

Honiton then touched down again, with the forwards again mauling their opponents over the line for Phil Bird to crash over.

This time the conversion was missed and the game finished 41-15. A tough day at the office but we travelled when many other teams this year have failed to, continuing our 100% record.

Next week Honiton entertain old foes Cullompton in a local derby.

ONCE again the Honiton Netball League fell foul of the weather.

After the snow and ice last week it was now wind and rain at Honiton that caused games to be cancelled - meaning only two second division games at Colyton took place.

SIDMOUTH Toucans started very strongly against second-placed Pixies and at quarter time were 9-2 in front, a lead that was extended to 16-6 by half-time.

With Louise Hasting in fine form, they had extended this lead to 27-11 going into the final period.

In the final quarter they really piled on the pressure and, although Rachel Edwards worked hard for Pixies, they were second best to the Sidmouth side, who ended the match with a resounding 42-16 win.

JD Tyres also maintained the pressure for a second place finish when they met Water Babies for a second game in a row.

Once again they proved too strong for the newcomers and led from the start to record a comfortable 36-8 win thanks to some excellent attacking play from Tanya Broom, despite the good defensive work from Rowan Bradford for the Babes.

With Pixies defeat the race for second place has been blown wide open, with only five points separating 2nd and 4th places, and with Toucans with a game in hand over both Pixies and JD Tyres, who have the best goal difference.

The forfeiture by JD of their opening game of the season has currently cost them second place in the division.

It looks as though it will be a close run thing for the promotion spaces in division 2.

running honiton Humdinger conquered!

Honiton Running Club WITH JUDY DAVEY.

Last Sunday, Honiton Running Club's Nick Bradley-Carter and Olivia Higginson ran in Running Forever Running Club's 9½ mile Hestercombe Humdinger.

This is a very hilly road race incorporating almost 1500 feet of total climb. The course is a figure of eight that starts and finishes at Hestercombe Gardens, near Taunton.

The route takes runners up to the top of the Quantock Hills before returning to Hestercombe ready for the second loop that takes runners to Kingston-St-Mary and then up the infamous Humdinger Hill!

Neither Nick nor Olivia were feeling on top form, and with it being their first race this year, they didn't have high expectations.

Nevertheless, they were both pleased with the results. Nick came 155th in 1 hour 27 minutes and 22 seconds and Olivia finished 176th in 1:32:05.

There were 216 runners and the race was won by Luke Scott of Taunton AC in 52:19.

Alongside the Humdinger is the shorter 'Hurtle' which is the first loop of the Humdinger.

A friend of Nick's, Jimmy Pan from Shanghai, ran in this race finishing in a time of 35:11 and 80th place.

He has only started running recently and this was his first 5K race.

Tigers to target three point haul at Sector Lane

AXMINSTER Town will head into Saturday's South-West Peninsula League visit by Totnes & Dartington with three points squarely in their sights if they are to maintain their grip on a top finish.

With no wins from their last five outings the Tigers will look to bounce back to the form that saw them head the table for several weeks in the early part of the season.

Saturday's 2-2 draw with Stoke Gabriel saw the team show glimpses of this form and the point was richly deserved.

Down in the Devon & Exeter League Seaton Town are also without a win in six following their surprise 3-1 home reverse at the hands of Clyst Valley.

Next up for the Greens is Saturday's visit by fourth placed Newtown who looked on course to bring an end to leaders Feniton's unbeaten record before shipping two late goals in a 3-2 defeat last Saturday.

Meanwhile, Beer Albion will look to bounce back from a 5-1 thumping at fifth-placed Heavitree Social United as they visit title-contenders Hatherleigh Town.

In division one Colyton, following another postponement at the weekend, will continue their quest for a first win of the season when they travel to high-flying Bow AAC.

There's a big division four six-pointer on the cards at Forton where Axminster Town Reserves entertain the University students – the winner could go top-of-the table.

Elsewhere, Axmouth United after countless postponements, will be frustrated to have no scheduled fixture at the weekend.

Over in the Perry Street League

Millwey Rise, having played just five league matches due to county cup requirements, still have a chance of claiming their first ever Premier division title.

The fixture backlog will obviously be against Rise who travel to Crewkerne Town on Saturday having been dumped out of the Axminster Hospital cup 4-0 after fielding a vastly weakened line-up against Alphington on Sunday.

Millwey Reserves continue their four-pronged silverware assault as they welcome Misterton Reserves for a Bill Bailey cup-tie.

Simon Flint's outfit will be boosted by Saturday's Daisy Hutchings cup victory over division two side UUplyme.

The team still have an outside chance of promotion and have a John Fowler Cup Final against Ilminster Town A to look forward to.

■ ON THE RISE: Millwey Rise are still in the running for a league and cup treble.
